DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

Marsh Creek Colored School is now a residence and it has been remodeled for that purpose. It retains the large section of the school but the addition on the front was built for conversion into a home.

The old part of the building was three bays long and had one room with tall ceiling. It was like many early schools in Caroline County, many of which remain in unchanged condition.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The Marsh Creek Colored School is a significant building because of its association with the education of the black community west of Preston. It appears to have been constructed close to the turn of the century.
